7.30pm, Saturday 5th December 2009

Germaine Greer - one of the most significant feminist voices of the 20th century – will visit Aberystwyth Arts Centre on Saturday 5th December, 7.30pm.

Controversial, agenda setting author, acclaimed academic, groundbreaking publisher, feminist icon and public figure Germaine Greer is constantly sought after as a journalist, commentator, reviewer, and ideas person for her views on the role of women in the current world with all its inequalities.

You can ask all those burning questions you have been longing to throw at Germaine... serious or light hearted, from the point of poetry, to the role of women in third world countries.

Expect this unique face to face encounter to be candid, pithy, enlightening and highly entertaining!
