Brief Exposure: A Farewell Tour
Alistair Crawford
7.45pm, 16 April 2009

Acclaimed story teller Alistair Crawford performs at Aberystwyth Arts Centre on Thursday 16th April, 7.45pm.

Alistair Crawford makes a welcome return to the Arts Centre with another version of the Farewell Tour, especially requested by those who missed it the first time round. His angry, funny, persuasive, disturbing and provocative autobiographical and Chaucerian tales, deriving from his search for meaning as a travelling artist and writer, are hilarious and moving, tragic and comic, real and surreal.

Alistair's inimitable blend has audiences laughing out loud, and the next moment, gasping with consternation. Long after the performance his words resonate in the memory. It is the workings of the memory which interest him most: he unnervingly raises questions about the selective nature of memory, even shared memory, which in reality is so rarely truly shared.

Alistair's intense and thought provoking monologue explores resonant themes. The evening promises to be a stimulating one as Alistair continues to push the boundaries of memory in his quest for making sense of 'all this'.

Tickets for this production are £5 (£3) and can be booked by contacting the Arts Centre ticket office on 01970 62 32 32 or online at www.aber.ac.uk/artscentre
