PRESS RELEASE

SOOTY IN SPACE
2.30pm, 17 May 2009

Sooty, Sweep and Sue will be at Aberystwyth Arts Centre on Sunday 17th May, 2.30pm.

Sooty's rocket is on the launch pad and he's off to explore the final frontier! Is there really life on Mars? Or a man in the moon? Let's find out!

5... 4... 3... 2... 1... BLAST OFF!

Join Sooty, Sweep and Soo on their intergalactic adventure into Space! See the amazing space station, witness the launch of the magic rocket, meet Harry the Robot, laugh at the three-legged martians, watch out for the Flying Saucers... and cups! And who will rescue Sweep?!

This is Sooty's most spectacular stage show for over a decade. Sooty in Space was written by Matthew Corbett and stars his successor, Richard Cadell, Sooty's TV partner. With exciting new music created by Dave Corbett, Sooty in Space features stunning scenery and effects presented in all new magical 3-D, plus a whole galaxy of intergalactic giggles in true Sooty tradition. Sooty In Space is a big family treat that's guaranteed to delight Sooty fans old and new.

Don't miss the launch! Reserve your flight tickets now!

Tickets for this production are £9.50 (£8.50) and £30 for a Family, and can be booked by contacting the Arts Centre ticket office on 01970 62 32 32 or online at www.aber.ac.uk/artscentre
